WHAT IS DESKTOP PUBLISHING?

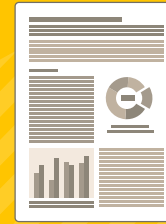

Desktop publishing (DTP) is an important part of document processing, including translation. It helps you to prepare any type of file for translation in CAT tools and create the correct layout afterwards.

Engineering drawings, process flowcharts, and elaborate marketing materials deserve careful attention both before and after translation. InText is ready to assist you with the most challenging PDF conversion, preparation for translation with CAT tools, text extraction, desktop publishing, layout formatting, layout recreation, and other tasks.

With InText, you can avoid intricate details and focus on what matters the most – your content.
