ABOUT US

The Agency was founded in 2011 by a team of professionals with diversified and complementary skills, as a result of experiences gained in different business sectors, capable of interpreting even the most complex communication needs of localization.

The team that has origins since 1998 in various business sectors such as: IT, business consultancy, marketing and project management, combined with experience in the linguistic sector, allows us to facilitate the development of our customers through the linguistic services.

We perform our work with passion and professionalism and interpret the most complex localization needs.

Our working method and skills developed in the use of technological tools allows us to offer the best language solutions to our customers.

COLLEGANDO is managed by Projects Managers in possession of the PMP® certification of the Project Management Institute who are specialized in the management of language and other projects.
